Safety is not a choice but a way of life for all of us – in business, at home, with clients and with colleagues

Setcore

Setcore is committed to protecting the health and safety of its employees and customers, the public and the environment.

Setcore ensures that its inspection and wireline logging services comply with all applicable health, safety and environmental laws and regulations. The company acts positively to prevent injury, ill health, damage and loss arising from its operations, as required by local legislation and customers.

Setcore strives for continuous improvement in its health, safety and environmental performance.

Setcore is committed to:

- Ensuring that all personnel understand their specific occupational health and safety responsibilities and implement all of the necessary measures for the prevention of accidents and protection of people and assets
- Maintaining the necessary knowledge of standards, legislation and codes of practice
- Establishing objectives and targets to prevent injuries and ill health in the workplace by identifying the risks
- Familiarising employees with the occupational health and safety regulations, best practices and policy
- Ensuring that all managers and supervisors actively monitor the effectiveness of this policy
- Complying with laws and regulations on occupational health and safety that apply to its activities and which are enforced nationally and by customers or contractors.

The health and safety policy will be communicated to all staff and made available to sub-contractors and visitors to Setcore as required for the safety of persons using the company facilities. The policy will be periodically reviewed for its continuing suitability.
